Culvers of Shakopee Medical Career Scholarship Ashritha Katamneni

Ashritha will be attending Tulane University where she will be majoring in neuroscience with a potential of a minor in psychology and or public health.

Shaped by her brother's battle with leukemia, Ashritha discovered early that healing is not only about cures, but about presence, compassion, and responsibility.

Through volunteering in the Emergency Department, supporting seniors, teaching children during the pandemic, and launching a mental-health campaign, she has shown a steady commitment to serving others.

She plans to study neuroscience and pursue pediatric oncology, pairing scientific rigor with empathy to support children and families facing serious illness.

Her dedication, resilience, and purpose embody the spirit of this scholarship.
